SPECIAL VOTE SEEN TO FILL BOLTON PLACE

Vacancy Created by Death of Veteran Cleveland
Congressman

BRICKER EXPECTED TO ORDER BALLOT

David S. Ingalls and Bolton's Widow Mentioned
As Candidates

CLEVELAND, Oct. 30.—Cleveland politicians, anticipating an order from Gov. John W. Bricker for a special primary and election to fill a vacancy in congress caused by the death of Chester C. Bolton, speculated today on possible candidates for the post.

Bolton, representative from the 2nd Ohio district, died yesterday in Lakeside hospital, which he entered last August for treatment of a heart ailment.

The veteran legislator, industrialist and philanthropist, was 57.

Widow Mentioned

Congressman Bolton's widow, Mrs. Frances Payne Bingham Bolton, was mentioned among possible candidates for the Republican nomination for his office, as was David S. Ingalls, on-time Republican candidate for governor of Ohio, and a close friend of Bolton.

William C. Dixon, defeated by Bolton in 1934, was mentioned as a possible candidate for the Democratic nomination.

Congressman Bolton was serving his fifth term in the house. He was elected to four consecutive terms starting in 1928. Defeated in a Democratic landslide in 1936, he returned to the house in 1938.

Helped Organize Legion

After the war he was active in the organization of the American Legion.

He was chairman of a civic committee which brought the 1936 Republican national convention to Cleveland.

Informing of his death, John Hamilton, chairman of the Republican national committee, said, "I am distressed over the death of Chester Bolton. He was a pillar of strength in the house, and in the Republican party, for good government."

Bolton was a graduate of Harvard university, and was a trustee of Kenton college, which school awarded him the honorary degree of Master of Civil Law.

Beside his widow, he is survived by three sons, Kenyon, Charles and John, and three daughters, Irving, Newell and Julian, all of Cleveland.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at Trinity Cathedral here.

Success

CHARLESTON, S. C.—On four deer hunts J. Albert Stuhler came back empty-handed.

He was determined the fifth would be different. Hearing a rustling in the bushes, he let go with both barrels.

There was a mournful "moo". The cow died.

Antarctic Snow Cruiser Trapped In Ditch, Struggles To Get Out As 50,000 Look On

75,000-Lb. Machine Tumbles From Bridge Near Lima

(By Associated Press)

LIMA, O., Oct. 30.—A giant snow cruiser, built for an Antarctic expedition but trapped in a small country ditch, was brought to an even keel today and workmen continued their slow job of jacking it to a level from which the monster could move into an adjoining pasture.

Tumbles From Bridge

The 75,000-pound machine, constructed for Admiral Richard E. Byrd, tumbled from a bridge into Pine run at nearby Gomer Saturday, landing on its side in mud and water after an eight-foot fall. The cruiser was being taken from Chicago to Boston.

While an estimated 50,000 persons jammed the accident scene yesterday, workmen managed to set the machine upright. The tedious task of raising it gradually on cribbing so that it can move on under its own power was expected to last through today.

The cruiser itself is doing the heavy work insofar as hoisting is concerned. Crew-members said the machine's engines could raise the huge retractable wheels about four feet. Shoring then is placed under the craft's nose, then under the wheels. The process will be repeated until the cruiser is elevated high enough to roll onto the pasture.

Steering Gear Broken

The complicated steering mechanism in the cruiser was broken by the impact, said Dr. Thomas Poulter, scientist of Armour institute in Chicago. He added that the machine was moving about five miles an hour when a wheel struck an abutment on the bridge and the cruiser crashed through the guard rail and into the stream. No one was injured, a crew of seven and several hitch-hikers leaping to safety.

The cruiser is 29 feet wide, while the bridge had a clearance of 24½ feet. Witnesses said that F. A. Wade, the pilot who took over the control for the first time about 10 miles from the scene of the accident, failed to allow for a slight turn in approaching the span.

TWO ARRESTED BY PATROLMEN

Cleveland Drivers Fined
After Accidents On Route 224

Salem state highway patrolmen arrested two motorists on charges of reckless driving following traffic accidents on Route 224 Saturday night.

Jacob Sandi, 23, and Kenneth Barber, 24, both of Alliance, escaped uninjured when a truck sideswiped their automobile near Ellsworth at 11:30 p. m. The patrol reported that the truck ripped off the whole left side off Sandi's machine.

Henry Jones, 23, of Cleveland, driver of the truck, charged with reckless driving, was fined $10 and costs by Mayor George Wilson at Canfield.

D. A. Zimmerman, 61, of Cleveland, was fined $10 and costs on a similar charge after his automobile sideswiped a car operated by Milan Valajkovich, 45, of R. D. 1, Canfield, on the same highway, just west of Canfield, at 7 p. m. Saturday.

Zimmerman and Valajkovich, and their wives, were treated at the scene for minor cuts and bruises.

William Wolff, 53, of Chicago, escaped unhurt when his truck-trailered up on Route 14, four and one-half miles east of Columbiana at noon Sunday and scattered miscellaneous freight over the highway. A spring on the truck broke, causing the vehicle to overturn, the state patrol said.

No one was injured when cars driven by Miss Bessie Gamble of East Liverpool and John Hare of Alliance collided on Route 62, near Alliance, at 8 p. m. Saturday.

Homewood Avenue Robbery Reported

A burglary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ross, 870 Homewood ave., was reported to police over the weekend.

The exact time of the breaking and entering was not known since the articles stolen had been stored away several months ago and were not missed until yesterday.

The loot included a $10 and a $15 gold piece, a $25 diamond ring, a set of gold cuff links valued at $15, five pipes, four fraternity pins, a watch, a gold filled chain, several medals and badges and some smaller articles.

TELLS TALE OF TRAGEDY IN AIR

Aviator Slayer Confesses Guilty; Wanted By Three Counties

(By Associated Press)

MACON, Mo., Oct. 30.—Three Missouri counties sought custody today of Ernest P. (Larry) Pletch, 29-year-old barnstorming aviator and confessed slayer of his companion in a dramatic mid-air struggle.

Pletch, who told Indiana authorities he fatally shot Carl Bivens, 38-year-old Brookfield, Mo., flying instructor after they quarreled while in a plane over northeastern Missouri, faced possible charges of first degree murder, kidnapping and airplane theft by Macon, Linn and Shelby counties.

Prosecuting Attorney Fred C. Bollow of Shelby county said prosecuting attorneys of the three counties would decide which would prefer charges against the youth.

Bollow expressed the belief Bivens was killed while over Macon county, although his body was found in a thicket in Shelby county.

Flying alone in a yellow monoplane, Pletch was arrested when he made a forced landing at Bloomington, Ind., Saturday night, almost at the same time Bivens' body was found. Pletch is held in the Macon county jail here, where he was lodged after a hurried trip from Indianapolis.

The Frankfort, Ind., youth was turned over to Missouri authorities last night after he had been taken to Indianapolis where he related a story of death in the sky before State Police Supt. Don F. Stiver.

Pletch told in his own confession he also planned to crash the plane, killing himself, but lost his nerve. In a signed statement, he related he received an hour and a half instructions from Bivens' widow.

Proposed Mexican Trip

The erstwhile farmer said he then proposed they "go to Mexico" in the plane Bivens had borrowed, and Bivens agreed.

He said they went aloft and headed east, to visit Pletch's well-to-do parents on a farm near Frankfort.

The disagreement started, the confession continued, when Bivens inquired if Pletch was armed and the youth answered he "carried a gun with the intention of trading it for gasoline if necessary."

"Bivens then stated he was withdrawing from our plan to steal the plane and also said that he was going to land the plane and 'turn me in'."

"At this time Bivens was in the front seat of the plane and I was in the rear. After we had argued for a while Bivens reached back at me with his right arm and pulled me forward. The plane went into a power dive."

Fires Two Shots
"I pulled the revolver and fired two shots, both of which hit him in the back of the head. His body slumped forward on the controls. I reached forward and pulled his body back away from the controls and after a few seconds I got the plane straightened out."

Copper Is Stolen From Logtown Mine

LISBON, Oct. 30.—The sheriff's office today investigated the theft, over the weekend, of 900 feet of No. 400 copper trolley wire from the mine of the Teropoli Coal Co. at nearby Logtown.

The wire, which has to have been used in the mine, was still in a coil.

Mine officials believe someone familiar with the mine was responsible for the theft. The mine was filled with dangerous gases, it was reported, and whoever took the wire undoubtedly entered without a carbide light, which probably would have caused a blast.

CLAIMS AWARDS OF 50 MILLIONS ARE AUTHORIZED

Germany Found Guilty In Black Tom and Kingsland Cases

BERLIN PROTEST IS TURNED DOWN

Secretary of State Cordell
Hull Refuses to Intervene

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The German-American mixed claims commission disregarded an emphatic Berlin protest today and awarded approximately $50,000,000 in claims arising from the disastrous Black Tom and Kingsland, N. J., sabotage cases of 1916 and 1917.

The awards were made by Umpire Owen J. Roberts after the commission had found on June 15 that imperial Germany was responsible for munitions explosions in the New York port area before the United States entered the World war.

Simultaneously, Roberts, an associate justice of the supreme court, disclosed that Hans Thomsen, counselor of the German embassy, had asked the state department to quash proceedings of what he called a "rump commission" and had charged "illegal" acts to Roberts.

Hull Won't Intervene

Secretary Hull, in reply, refused to intervene and referred to Thomsen's criticism as "entirely unwarranted."

Damages of $21,157,227 plus five per cent interest—estimated to approximate $50,000,000 in all—was ordered paid to the claimants.

Germany has a special deposit account at the United States treasury of between $23,000,000 and $26,000,000 to meet the award. The treasury also holds about $500,000,000 "paper value," in German republic bonds.

Germany, however, has denied the jurisdiction of the commission. Dr. Victor Hueseking, the German commissioner, walked out on the deliberations prior to the decision last June and the German government has protested against making the award. The German side of the counsel table was vacant today.

At the session, attended by Umpire Owen J. Roberts and Commissioner Christopher B. Gurnea, the latter announced he had notified Dr. Richard Paulig, German agent, of the meeting.

At the same time, the commission made public correspondence between Hans Thomsen, counselor

Private Funeral Services Held Today For Alice Brady; Faced Death For More Than Year

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Private funeral services will be held today for Alice Brady, stage and screen favorite for a quarter of a century. Burial will follow in Sleepy Hollow cemetery at Tarrytown, N. Y., for the dark-eyed actress who played one of her greatest film roles—Mrs. Leary in "In Old Chicago"—while suffering from the disease that killed her.

This performance won her an award from the National Academy of Motion Pictures in 1938.

For more than a year, she had known she was stricken with cancer. Saturday night she died quietly in her sleep only a few days before her 47th birthday.

At the bedside were her father, William A. Brady, famous Broadway producer, and her stepmother, Actress Grace George. Her son, Donald Crane, also survives.

Miss Brady crossed theatrical footlights against the wishes of her father, who had trained her to become an opera singer. Since 1911, she had gained recognition as a comedienne and skilled dramatic actress in scores of film and stage appearances.

She was starred in both the silent and sound eras of the screen. Her only marriage, to James Lyon Crane, an actor, ended in divorce in 1922.

Exact Whereabouts of the City of Flint Remain Undisclosed

BERLIN, Oct. 30.—The American freighter City of Flint apparently was the quarry today in a grim game of hide-and-seek somewhere in the north Atlantic, according to the best available information here, but German officialdom was silent.

Unofficial sources said the United States government-owned vessel still was in the hands of a German prize crew and attempting to dodge the British blockade on a run from Murmansk, Russia, to a German port.

But officials said that until the City of Flint docks, "there will be no information about this ship."

The American crew which was taken to the Soviet Russian Arctic port with the City of Flint after its capture in the Atlantic was said probably to be still aboard.

Beyond disclosure that the ship had left Murmansk, authorities regarded information concerning her as a military secret.

In informed quarters, meanwhile, hints were dropped of an intensified German submarine campaign against British sea commerce.

Enthusiasm over the successes so far in eight weeks of submarine war has led many Germans to the conclusion that Nazi undersea raiders have discovered the weakest spot in Britain's defense—and that this is the spot to hit hardest.

The last report of Weyer's Naval almanac indicated that at the beginning of this year 43 German submarines were at sea and 28 others were planned or under construction.

Informal sources considered it certain that construction had been stepped up and noted that at the height of her output during the World war, Germany was building more than 25 submarines a month.

PARKING PROBLEMS

Finding space for parked cars is not the only parking problem in Salem. Safety, as well as convenience, should command constant attention. It presents a big problem because so many Salem streets where parking is permitted on both sides are entirely too narrow for such regulations.

Police Chief Stoffer points to the danger of two-way parking on one of these streets. It is the block on W. State st. between Ellsworth and Howard. It is a dangerous section which has been neglected too long. If parking is to be permitted at all in that block it should be on only one side of the street.

Officials might do a little more checking while they're at the job. Other blocks, perhaps not quite so dangerous but entirely too dangerous, could be found without straining the eyes. In some cases parking is permitted too close to a street intersection. East Second st., at the intersection of N. Lundy, is one particularly bad spot for southbound traffic cannot see approaching cars from either direction until almost in the center of Second st.

Eliminate a few conditions like this, and the one on W. State, and cut another notch for safety.

NO FENCE SITTERS

The proposed Bigelow pension amendment is not an issue, in the usual meaning of the word. There is no argument.

Those opposed to the scheme are concentrating their energy on proving that it won't work. The other side isn't trying to prove it would work.

All that's claimed in behalf of the proposal is that if it did work there'd be pie in the sky for its theoretical beneficiaries.

It's about the same as organizing a pressure group to fly to the moon by saying that if the group's members could fly to the moon that would be dandy. In the case of the Bigelow pension plan, however, the flying to the moon would be done on the backs of persons who prefer to stay on earth.

They've no objection to lunar excursions as long as the excursionists don't demand the right to drag along more realistic people. The realists can prove beyond shadow of doubt that the Bigelow stunt's unworkable, and the Bigelowites can't prove it's workable. There's no argument. It's no more an issue than when Johnny wants to jump from an upstairs window with an umbrella for a parachute and his mother tells him what will happen if he does.

The situation leaves no room for indecision. Either a voter believes in defying the law of economic gravity, or believes in doing everything possible to prevent a minority from making the state of Ohio absurd. In another week it will be time to stand up to be counted. More than the Bigelow pension scheme's at stake. Ohio is going to vote on whether or not to repeal its common sense.

THE EXACT WORD

There is nothing surprising in the first encyclical of Pope Pius XII. It contains the only thoughts possible to the supreme head of the Roman Catholic church. The thoughts are shared by all Christians.

The Pope's denunciation of forces placing the will of states and mundane groups above the will of people and the principles of Christianity makes a formal religious issue of the doctrine of nihilism. That is the exact word to describe what seems to be happening.

Nihilism is complete denial of all existing values in life. It holds that destruction is desirable for its own sake. Its object is universal and continuous revolution. In "The Revolution of Nihilism" by Hermann Rauschning, former high ranking National Socialist, the process is explained.

All existing principles and establishments to protect principles are to be destroyed. The will of the people is to be broken and replaced by absolute obedience to the leaders of endless revolution. There is to be no peace—nothing but eternal strife.

Rauschning conceivably may be wrong in his frightening interpretation of what has been put into motion by National Socialism in Germany and Stalinism in Russia. Certainly it has been difficult to believe nihilism is being practiced deliberately, though Great Britain and France have ceased assuming it isn't being practiced. Pope Pius XII has said plainly that the Roman Catholic church, likewise, has abandoned so dangerous an assumption.

PATENT APPLIED FOR

Even opposition senators admit the neutrality vote might as well have been taken two weeks ago. Victory for revision has been in the bag so long that tying the string was a formality. But nothing has been lost by keeping debate alive.

Everything indicates the house will approve revision too, despite its unwillingness in the regular session of the congress. It is plain that public opinion approves reversal of the previous decision in the house, but at the same time there's no objection to a few more weeks of debate.

This is the effect of a marvelous invention for cooling off and straightening out national issues in the United States. It is known as the fanning bee, sometimes described as the right of free speech.

Thanks to senate debate, plus newspaper and radio discussion, plus living room and drugstore arguments, Americans now know a great deal about neutrality.

For instance, they know the main thing isn't the kind of law congress passes but the kind of policy the law expresses, however inadequately. The terms of national policy are clear, thanks to unlimited conversation.

The people want the Roosevelt administration and whatever administration succeeds it to look at Europe the same as Europe looks at the United States, with a cold and calculating eye. They think that has been made plain.

They are keenly aware of all the dangers of involvement in war. They are suspicious of everybody, including themselves. They are sick of war and nations that wage wars. They're eternally grateful that they live in a land that can take war or leave it—and they intend to pass up this one. They're also grateful for the fanning bee that seems to have made all these things plain to themselves and all other interested parties.

YEP, IT SNOWED

With snow as with sin, it's the first time that counts. Weathermen may quibble over the distinction between snow and sleet, but for everyday purposes the first snow fell in Ohio last Saturday.

Oddly, in view of their enthusiasm, winter admirers make little of this annual turning point, compared to the fuss made over the first robin, first crocus, first tulips and other distinguished firsts of springtime.

Like everybody else they just start glumly at what undoubtedly is snow and say, "It's snowing." Or, if their attention's called to this vital bulletin from the weather front, they mutter, "Yep"—and let the matter drop right there. Sometimes it looks as though our friends who profess to think winter is the best of all seasons are kidding.

THE STARS SAY:

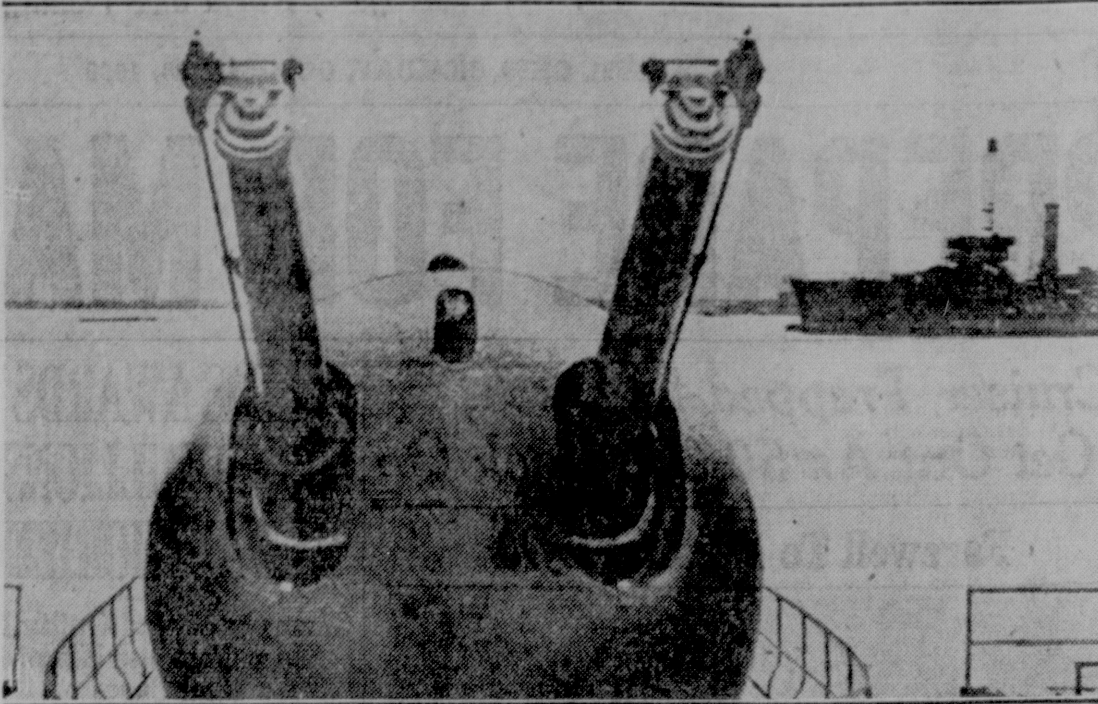

For Tuesday, October 31

THE PLANETARY configurations bearing rule on the events of this day point to unusually lively and thrilling events, possibly of a sudden and unprecedented nature, with many new, strange or uncalculated developments. The spirit of initiative and adventure will be found under high stimulus for putting over important objectives, and in this elders, old institutions or influential persons will co-operate. High-pressure measures should prove productive.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a progressive and productive year, with much high initiative and quickened energies and faculties arresting the attention and gaining substantial endorsement of elders, superiors or old-established institutions. However, innovation, bold ventures and surprises in constructive and creative work may attract strangers as well, and give thrilling satisfactions. Changes may be needed, but be wise as to legal aspects.

A child born on this day may be unusually progressive, productive and talented in a thoroughly practical way, winning support of elders and promoters by its initiative, possibility originality and audacity.

Big Guns on France's Big Submarine

News of the Day

This photo, latest of the French navy, shows how the man in the conning tower sees his ship as she begins her dive. Her twin guns are masked, ready for submersion. The French undersea fleet has received less publicity than that of Germany, but is playing a big part in the Allied blockade of Germany.

Physical Fitness, Athletic Fitness Not The Same Thing

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

ARE STRENGTH and physical fitness the determining factors in athletic efficiency?

No. According to a London physician, physical fitness and athletic efficiency are by no means the same thing. A man may be physically fit and yet be a very poor athlete. Many star athletes are discovered in the midst of their careers to have tuberculosis—even extensive tuberculosis. The factors that make for athletic efficiency are difficult to define or detect, and simple tests are probably as satisfactory as more elaborate methods. The best methods measure the response of the circulation to effort—pulse rate and blood pressure. But blood pressure tests are fallacious on account of the emotional factor. The rate at which the pulse slows after a short, intense effort is the most reliable test. The superman athlete has a superiority of only about four per cent over the first class athlete, but that four per cent does the trick.

Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Are some people more susceptible to insect bites than others, just as some are more susceptible to plant contacts—poison ivy and hay fever?

Undoubtedly. The reaction to insect bites is a form of immunity or allergy and effects people in different degrees. As in most cases of immunity, the newcomer to a region suffers the most severely. It is often noticed by fishermen that the guides or boatmen who live in the district are not affected by mosquitoes at all, and do not pay any attention to them, while the members of the fishing party are "eaten up."

Then we all know the fellow who wails that "they simply poison me." Some San Francisco doctors have produced an antigen against flea bites.

"California, and particularly San Francisco, bay region, abounds in fleas, which do not encroach on the rights of the local population, but are the source of great misery to newcomers until they acquire an immunity. This usually takes several months to several years, and in rare instances is never acquired."

There is definite evidence that the flea's selection of their victims is not a matter of chance. The flea knows who will be poked by his bite! The flea antigen desensitizes against the reaction to flea bites.

Questions and Answers

C. H.: "When one opens a can of condensed milk or vegetables, and leaves contents set in the can for a day or two, will it be apt to give the person eating it ptomaine poisoning?"

Answer: The danger of the open can is contamination with germs, not the metal of the can. Processed foods are more liable to contamination than others because in the processing they come to resemble bacterial culture media. Besides, processed foods left in the can are more liable to be eaten without re-cooking, whereas raw foods have the advantage of the germ-killing qualities of cooking. Of course, then, ptomaine poisoning can result from eating food left in an open can.

W. T.: "What could have caused sudden dizziness after a strenuous set of tennis?"

Answer: Probably the exertion and the heat caused a temporary redistribution of blood in the capillary reservoirs. The muscles needed more blood and deprived the brain, causing temporary anemia in the centers of equilibrium. They are very sensitive to such changes.

"REDHEADS ARE LUCKY"

BY VERA BROWN

CHAPTER XXXIII

In March, Mike splurged on a new suit. That was because of the Kenyon wedding. She had to go to several affairs given for Bob and Ruth. At the wedding, Mike wore a smart black tailored suit.... Her husband showed a large part of her hair, but Don only laughed. Outside the spring night was dark and soft.

"Who's the redhead? Who's the redhead?" the men asked.

"My secretary," Kenyon answered.

"First thing I'd do, Ruth, is to make Bob fire her," advised Don. "You're a girl after my own heart. Let's shake the mob and go for a ride. I'm sick of this too." They left the crowd amid a lot of jibes, but Don only laughed. Outside the spring night was dark and soft.

"We'll go up to Central Park and get a carriage. No automobile is as good on a night like this," Don Raye had fallen hard. He made Mike's life very pleasant that spring.

It was Don who took her to the stadium one Sunday for the first game she had seen in two seasons. Dusty was pitching and Mike was eager to watch him. There had been disquieting reports about his arm. Things were not as rosy as Carol had painted them. Mike was a little shocked at Dusty's appearance. He looked older and seemed tired. The Yanks finally won, but not because of any expert pitching. The team was hitting that day.

Don talked about it as they drove back from the stadium. Mike just listened. That evening Wish Malone walked into the restaurant where Don and Mike were dining. When he finally caught Mike's eye, he came over to the table. She introduced Mr. Raye and they talked casually for a few minutes.

"Have dinner with me some time soon," Wish said as he left.

Don left her at her apartment house door. It was very late, must have been after one o'clock when Mike unlocked the door to her apartment. She heard footsteps coming down the hall. A tall figure stood there in the half light.

"Mike, I've got to talk to you."

It was Dusty Lee. She hid her surprise, turned on the lights, invited him in. He slumped into a chair, mumbling, Mike observed:

"You look tired."

"I am and... well, I suppose you wonder why I'm here."

"I certainly do. You should be home and asleep."

"I pitched today. I'm awfully tired. But I had to wait for you." Dusty raised his head on the chair back, closed his eyes. "Did you meet Carol while I was away?"

"Yes, I did. Dusty, I hadn't seen her in a long time."

"That's what she told me.... Gosh, I don't understand what you see in that guy, Frank Ralston!" Mike had been watching Lee's face. So that was it!

"Women are queer," Dusty hesitated and then resumed slowly: "Well, I've got something to say to you." He leaned forward. "You're still in love with Handsome aren't you?" Mike was silent. "You don't have to answer." After a pause, he asked: "Mike, can I trust you?"

"Yes."

"My arm's bad. You know what happened today. I've known it for a month. Ace won't believe it. But it's true. What I came down here to tell you is, if you know where Handsome is, if he's in any kind of shape, get him started this way."

Mike watched his grey face. Suddenly Dusty rested his arms on the table and dropped his head on them. His shoulders shook.

"Mike, I'm sorry to be such a baby, but I'm licked."

"You can't be," Mike protested.

"Why are you so sure?"

"I know it. Not this week, maybe, or next. But this season, I can't face it," he groaned. "My arm's going fast, it's almost gone. I—I—I'm old!"

Dusty was only 36! Old! Yes, old for big league baseball. Mike shivered. Dusty finally stood up. "I spoke my piece, Skipper. You do what you can. Mum's the word to anybody." He picked up his hat.

"But if I don't know where Handsome is?"

"You do!"

He gave her a smiling wink and left the apartment.

The next day, Mike confided in Wish Malone the secret of Handsome Regan's come-back efforts at Iron Mountain, but it took weeks (and the growing weakness of Dusty Lee's arm) to convince Owner Crisp that he might give Handsome another chance. Finally he told Malone to bring Regan back. It was almost mid-season when the former pitching star—in a fanfare of sports page publicity—rejoined the Yanks. Gone was that one-time playboy look. The first news photos taken at airports pictured Handsome as a husky just off the farm, which he was.

Though the fans raved, Club Owner Crisp and Manager Ace Barnes were only civil in welcoming the prodigal's return. But Regan seemed more confident than ever. He even wagered with Mr. Crisp that he would win ten games for the club on this basis: He'd get his old salary if he succeeded; he would get but half of his small new contract if he failed!

Day after day, Regan worked out with the club. Ace seemed to show little interest in what Regan was doing. But Handsome threw all pride to the wind and asked Ace to observe his new curve and fast ball. The veteran manager admitted that they were not bad.

One day, Ace asked Handsome about Iris.

"We're through!" Handsome declared bluntly.

Ace laughed. "You just think you are. She hasn't divorced you, has she?"

"No, but she will, or I'll know the reason why."

"Handsome, don't be a chump. I know women. When Iris hears you're back in the bucks, she'll come running. She'll want some of that sugar. You better go talk to one of our attorneys and see what you should do."

"That might be a good idea," Handsome agreed.

"What about the redhead?" Ace inquired.

"She's here."

"Still superstitious?"

Handsome laughed. "No, just in love."

Ace eyed Handsome for a moment, in silence. Then he spoke and tried to keep all excitement out of his voice.

"Better get her out here to the stadium tomorrow. I may start you."

From the next day on, Regan was a positive sensation. The baseball world knows about Handsome that August and September. Fans will never forget that phenomenal comeback which put him at the top again. Handsome pitched as though inspired. He was by Mike and that wagger with Owner Crisp. When he was away on the road, he telephoned Mike twice a week. He wrote her almost every day. He kept sending her little gifts along the route. A bottle of perfume, a book, sometimes flowers.

While Handsome was away, Mike spent hours pouring over newspaper clippings about Regan. They kept her from being too lonely. She was not seeing Don Raye any more and Bob was rather annoyed.

"I think you're being very foolish, Mike," Kenyon warned her one morning while Handsome was away on the last road trip of the season.

"Don's a swell chap. What's the idea cutting him off like this? I figured you might marry him."

"Don's a darling, and I like him a lot, that's all."

Theatre Attractions

Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland are the stars of the musical comedy, "Babes in Arms," which is the attraction at the State tonight and Tuesday.

Easily the best musical that has been seen on the screen in a good many years, the delightful story, dialogue, music and action combine to give the theatergoer thoroughly enjoyable film entertainment.

Mickey Rooney's amazing versatility as actor, song-writer, song-and-dance man, singer and dancer makes him the likeliest candidate for nomination as the outstanding performer of the year, as well as Academy award winner.

Judy Garland is as delightful a young actress and singer as the screen will ever find, making up in ability, personality and voice anything she may lack in the "glamour" line. Her voice has never been heard to better advantage, nor her talents as a comedienne given greater opportunity.

He told Hull that Roberts, who is also an associate justice of the supreme court, has "had no neutrality at all." Thomson made "most emphatic representation" against the "illegal act of the umpire," and asked the state department to quash proceedings of the commission.

Hull replied under date of Oct. 11 that "I must remain in an engaging in a discussion of the various complaints and protests set out in your communication and content myself by stating that since the department is without jurisdiction over the commission, I consider that it would be highly inappropriate for it to intervene directly or indirectly in the work of the commission, or to endeavor, in the slightest manner, to determine the course of its proceedings."

Major awards among 153 made by the commission included: Lehigh valley railroad, $9,900,322; the agency of the Canadian Car and Foundry company, $5,871,105; the Kingsland underwriters, which paid insurance on some of the losses, $1,311,023; the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, $32,678; the Black Tom underwriters, $2,095,607; the Bethlehem Steel company, $1,885,991. The remainder were small claims.

New Nash Takes Eye of Automotive World

Clean, trim skyliners contributed much to the styling of the new 1940 Nash automobiles, according to George Walker, noted industrial designer. Walker, who is shown with one of the new Nash models (the Nash Ambassador Eight two-door sedan), which he designed in collaboration with Nash engineers, says that the principles of aerodynamic streamlining just beginning to be used by leading manufacturers today will be the most important element in automotive body design in the coming decade. Exemplified in the new Nashes, this type of design has brought not only a new operating efficiency to motor vehicles by reducing wind resistance and road noises to a minimum, but has given them a breath-taking new beauty. Distinguished for their eye appeal, the new 1940 Nashes also are said to offer what is described as an "Arrow-Flight" ride. The perfected riding qualities of the car are attributed to an advanced type of springing which combines the action of long, synchronous leaf springs and giant shock absorbers in the rear, and soft, individual coil springs in front.

You may look at and learn more about the new Nash at the showrooms of the Buckeye Motor Sales, E. Pershing st. A visit will entail no obligation on your part.

EXPERT TOUCH IS NECESSARY

And Financial Responsibility Is Also Good Recommendation

Behind the sign—"Dry Cleaners" there must be knowledge and experience capable of dealing with the many problems which modern fabrics and dyes present.

Dry cleaning is not a uniform process. It is a process plus the ability of highly trained experts whose finishing touches make all the difference in the world. Good dry cleaning calls for, first, the right intention, the policy of turning out the best possible work, and finally, no thought of how cheaply "we can do it and get by."

When you send your garments to be cleaned you have a right to expect them back sparkling fresh, the sheen of the original fabric restored and the colors vivid with life.

It is a fact that there are no laws or regulations governing the processes used in the dry cleaning industry beyond the fire and explosive hazards. Anyone can set themselves up as dry cleaners, although their equipment may be only an old fashioned washing machine plus a few gallons of solvent, and the matter of ability and experience entirely lacking. Even financial responsibility is not required.

A modern dry cleaning plant, even on a small scale, costs many dollars for equipment alone. Experienced help can not be employed cheaply. But, certainly, a plant of this kind is the only type of place you would knowingly send your garments to.

The Paris Dry Cleaners are completely equipped with the latest machinery and the men who do the work are trained, with years of experience in perfecting their technique and acquiring the skill so necessary.

The Paris Cleaners own their own plant and their trucks; in fact, everything that is any part of the organization. They are financially responsible and work entrusted to them is safe. Manager L. C. Price can always be interviewed and there is no such thing as dissatisfied customers because everything must be right to the patron.

MODERN TIRES DELIVER MORE

If They Don't There Is Something Wrong With Wheels

As yet, no one has figured out the amount of rubber that is left each day on the street and highways of this country from the tires of rapidly moving automobiles. That it must be a considerable amount can be guessed from the number of tires which are sold to motorists every year.

Tires are delivering more for the money than ever before. They are made better and prices are lower.

What Makes Them Wear?

In many instances, however, tires do not deliver a full life of service and the fault is not that of the manufacturer. When tires wear out prematurely, there is in 99 cases out of a hundred, some cause other than a defect in the tire.

In these 99 cases, the cause of excessive tire wear can be laid at the door of shimmy and misalignment of wheels. A car traveling at even 30 miles an hour whose front wheels are wobbly or out-of-line those tires wear held against a hard, same effect as though grind-stone. Tires on out-of-line wheels show chumpy spots on the tread, and are scuffed looking.

Tires wear out soon enough for most of us with the best of cars, but when an out-of-line condition exists, this ordinary wear is increased from 30 to 50 per cent.

Place to Fix Them

However, there is wheel aligning equipment in garages now that remedies the cause of excessive tire wear at the seat of the trouble. Scientific gauges tell immediately whether or not an out of line condition exists. Then it's simple to restore bent axles or knees and out-of-line wheels to manufacturers' original specifications.

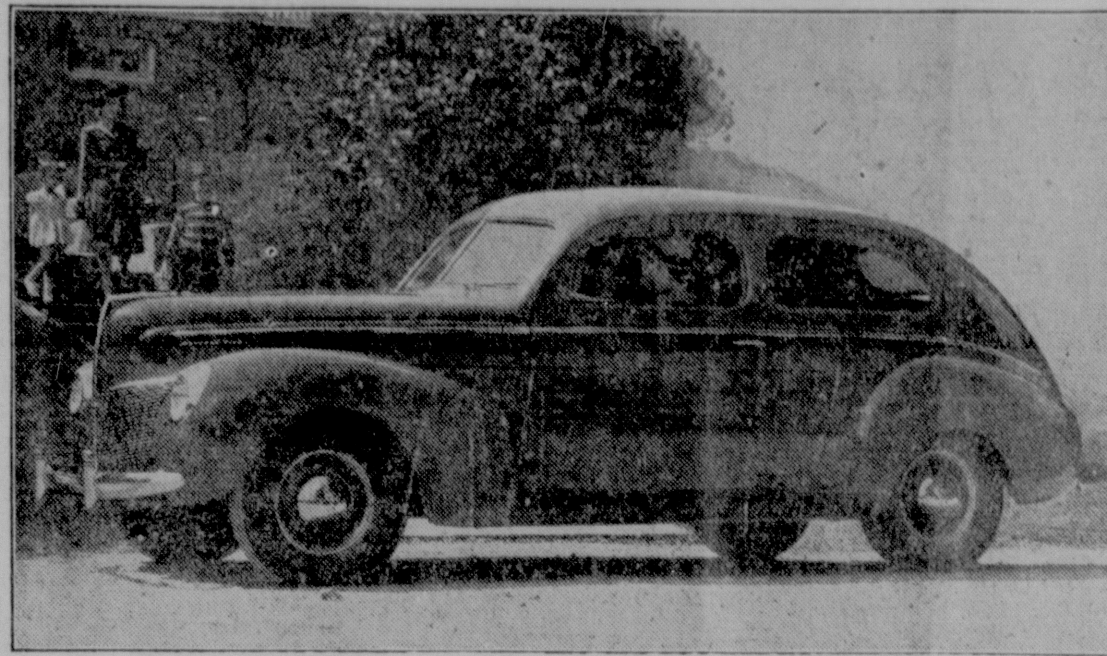

Simply drive to 813 Newgarden ave., and Matt Klein, a specialist in this particular field, will demonstrate to your satisfaction the true condition of your car with the use of the Bear alignment machine for which he is an authorized operator, having completed the required schooling necessary to qualify.

Old Tubes In New Casings? Nonsense, Say Tire Experts

"How would you like to roll over 15,000,000 times and then get up and start all over again?" asks Lee Butler, Kelly Springfield dealer located on West State st.

That's what happens when you put an old inner-tube in a new tire.

You wouldn't slip a pair of horribly old socks inside of a pair of shiny new shoes, nor would you drain the oil out of your old car to put into a brand new one. Putting old tubes back into new casings is about the same kind of nonsense.

It's a natural mistake to do it because the old tubes still hold air, and maybe they don't show their age and weakness. But you can understand how, after those millions of flexings it has had, an old tube has just naturally lost its ambition.

The torture and the heat have stretched it and made it porous. The air seeps out slowly, and before long your new tire is under-inflated and its life is reduced 20, 30 or even 50%.

New tubes cost so little (less than one fifth the price of the new casing) that it is well worth while — as safety insurance — to buy new tubes as an essential part, which they really are, of a new tire.

Quakers Prepare For Tough Games After Topping Lisbon

SALEM ELEVEN TO HIT DOVER FRIDAY NIGHT

Quakers Have Easy Time In Topping Lisbon In Sixth Game

Their fourth grid victory tucked away, Salem High school's Quakers staged preparations today for the tough November schedule that lies ahead.

The Quakers will face Dover's Crimson eleven Friday night in their last night game of the season and the first of four stiff November assignments.

The Dover game will be followed by engagements with Barborton Saturday, Nov. 11; Youngstown South Saturday, Nov. 18, and Alliance Thursday, Nov. 23, Thanksgiving day. The last three games will be played at Reilly stadium.

Stop Lisbon, 26 to 0.

The Quakers had things all their own way in stopping Lisbon's hapless Blue Devils, 21 to 6, in their sixth game of the season at the county fair grounds in Lisbon last Saturday.

The triumph was the fourth Coach Carl Schroeder's Salem eleven has recorded in six games to date. It was Lisbon's seventh straight defeat. A small crowd, estimated at 1,000 people, witnessed the one-sided contest.

Punching through Lisbon's weak defense practically at will, the Quakers rolled up 18 first downs from rushing to Lisbon's one and gained 299 yards to the Blue Devils' 23. A five-yard penalty against Salem added Lisbon in making its lone first down by rushing. The Blue Devils counted two first downs on passes.

The Quakers scored in each of the first three periods, and would probably have counted other touchdowns if Coach Schroeder had not frequently changed the lineup to see action. Lisbon pushed over a touchdown in the fourth quarter, marking the second time in seven games that the Blue Devils have been able to score.

Battle Scores

The Quakers opened the scoring late in the first quarter when Marvin Wukotich blocked a Lisbon punt from the seven-yard line and George Baillie, right end of the Quakers, fell on the ball after it had rolled back of the goal line. Wukotich plunged through Lisbon's line for the extra point.

A blocked punt also set the stage for Salem's second touchdown. Marvin Wukotich again breaking through Lisbon's line and hurling his body in front of a kick by Bob Pike, the Blue Devils' left half-back, the ball bounced off Wukotich's chest and rolled from the Lisbon 47-yard line back to the 30-yard stripe where it was recovered by Leonard Piersol, the Quakers' husky left guard.

From the 30, the Quakers reeled off two straight first downs to advance to the five. Marvin Wukotich crashed through Lisbon's line to advance the ball to the one-yard stripe, then on the following play plunged over the second Salem touchdown. He added the extra point with a plunge through the middle of the Blue Devil forward wall.

Stage Long Drive

A 59-yard sustained drive resulted in Salem's third touchdown in the third quarter. Starting on their own 41-yard line, the Quakers made four consecutive first downs to move the ball to the Lisbon one-yard stripe from where Carroll Green, who was recently moved from the line into the backfield, cracked over left tackle to score. Marvin Wukotich again added the extra point by plunging through Lisbon's line.

A pass interception by Phil Rodi, right guard, on the Salem 45-yard line started the Blue Devils on the way to their only score. After falling on one pass from the 45, Pike dropped back and heaved a 10-yard toss to Left End Andy Cartwright who raced to the Salem one-yard line before he was brought to the ground. Quarterback Clem McGoogan crashed through Salem's line on the following play to give Lisbon its only touchdown. A placekick for the extra point was blocked.

SPTS—QUAKERS—Take 3

Except for the fourth period when they counted their touchdowns, the Blue Devils never threatened the Salem goal. They advanced to midfield once in the first half and got as far as their own 48-yard line in the third quarter, but most of the time they were battling with their backs to the wall.

Loss Three Chances

The Quakers lost three scoring opportunities, one early in the first quarter when they advanced as far as the Lisbon 13-yard line before losing the ball on downs. In the COLUMBIA, S. C.—A member of Columbia's chain gang is "Watermelon Willie", who eats at least four or five melons a day in addition to his regular meals. However, he says he hasn't felt so well lately because he usually can "put away 10 or 12 when I'm feeling right."

UNBEATEN LIST DWINDLES WITH FEW SURVIVING

End of October Finds 11 Teams Still In Race For Top Ranking

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The "pay-off" month of the college football season starts this week.

The first half of the battle for national honors, winding up Saturday, produced about the results expected. The end of October found not more than 11 unbeaten and untied survivors still in the race for the mythical national crown.

Starting part two, the "major" unbeaten and untied teams are: East-Cornell, Duquesne, Catholic; south-Tennessee, Kentucky; midwest-Notre Dame, Michigan; southwest-Texas A. and M.; Rocky mountain-Colorado Mines; Pacific coast-Oregon State, San Jose (Cal.) State.

Tied but undefeated are Dartmouth and Georgetown, in the east; Tulane, North Carolina and Richmond, in the south; Nebraska and Oklahoma, in the midwest; Southern California and U. C. L. A. on the west coast, and Utah (tied twice), in the Rocky mountains.

Sectional Leaders

Contenders for sectional and conference championships shape up like this for the first weekend of November.

East: It's been a long time since any one team did so much to add the prestige of eastern football as Cornell did last Saturday by whipping Ohio State, 23-14. That triumph automatically installed the Big Red team as the east's No. 1 power, and next Saturday's game against Columbia, despite the Lion's decisive 26-7 win over Virginia Military, shouldn't hurt Cornell.

Duquesne, 13-0 winner over Texas Tech Friday, faces another stiff intersectional test against Marquette, and Catholic, 14-0 winner over Miami, meets Tulsa of the Missouri valley conference.

Dartmouth encounters Yale, but off the Green's 16-0 win over Harvard and Yale's 27-7 licking by Michigan, Dartmouth figures to remain undefeated. Georgetown, after beating George Washington South Carolina, 6-6, Friday.

The biggest games in the east pit Army against Notre Dame and Harvard against Princeton, which tuned up with a 26-12 win over Brown. Notre Dame's unbeaten team just managed to stave off Carnegie Tech, 7-6, while the Cadets routed Ursinus, 46-13.

Penn Meets Navy

Pennsylvania, knocked out of the picture by a 30-6 licking from North Carolina, meets Navy, 15-7 victim of Clemson, Fordham, which whipped Pitt, 27-13, tackles Rice's hapless Utes, New York U., 14-13 winner over Georgia, eases off against Lafayette, Boston college

Nebraska overwhelmed Kansas State, 25-9, and Oklahoma routed the Missouri valley conference leader, Oklahoma Aggies, 41-0. Missouri gained a tie with Nebraska for the lead by whipping Iowa State, 21-6. The two leaders collide Saturday. Oklahoma plays Iowa State, and Kansas meets Kansas State.

Southwest: The unbeaten Texas Aggies breezed past Baylor, 20-0, but are tied for the Southwest conference lead with Texas university's sophomore team, which trimmed Rice, 28-12. The Aggies meet Arkansas, beaten 7-0 by Villanova while the Longhorn play Southern Methodist. Texas Christian and Baylor clash in another conference game.

Pacific coast: One title contender is due for elimination this week when Oregon State plays Southern California. The Beavers, only undefeated and untied team in the loop, beat Washington State, 13-0, while Southern Cal. defeated California, 26-0.

The winning team still will have to account for U. C. L. A., which beat Oregon, 16-6. The Uclans play California Saturday. Washington, who conquered Stanford by an odd 8-5 score, plays Montana, 13-0 winner over Idaho. Oregon meets Washington State, and Stanford faces Santa Clara.

Sunday "Independent" games pit Loyola of Los Angeles against San Francisco and St. Mary's against Dayton of Ohio.

Rocky mountain: Denver threw the Mountain states Big Seven into a state of confusion by holding "unbeatable" Utah to a 7-7 tie, that left them tied for the lead. Comebacking Colorado, which downed Wyoming 27-7, is the Utes' next opponent while Denver plays Brigham Young. Colorado Mines maintained its unbeaten status in the older Rocky mountain conference with a 50-7 triumph over Colorado college.

Ohio State Scores But Cornell Wins, 23-14

Strausbaugh, plunging backfield star of Ohio State, flings himself over the goal line to score his team's first touchdown against Cornell in the game between the two unbeaten, untied football powers in Columbus, O. The Buckeyes drove across two touchdowns in 18 minutes for what looked like a rout, but Cornell came back to win an upset victory 23 to 14.

and Holy Cross play Auburn and Providence, respectively.

South: It's Tennessee, the nation's ranking team in last week's AP poll, against Louisiana State. The Volunteers knocked off Mercer 17-6, in last Saturday's thriller, while L. S. U. turned back Vanderbilt, 12-6.

Kentucky facing Alabama, which turned back Mississippi State, 7-0, is another major battle. Mississippi, beaten for the first time by Tulane, 18-6, encounters Vanderbilt. Georgia Tech plays Duke, which gained a 6-0 decision over Wake Forest. Tulane has an open date.

Virginia meets Chicago, and Miami plays Texas Tech in the south's best intersectional tilts.

Midwest: Despite that thumping from Cornell, Ohio State plays the leading role in the Big Ten, facing Indiana. The Bucks still are tied with Michigan for the conference lead while Indiana's Hoosiers, idle last week, are a real threat. Michigan should win another from Illinois, 13-0 victim of Northwestern. Northwestern plays Minnesota and Iowa, 19-13 winner over Wisconsin, meets Purdue, which took a 13-5 licking from Santa Clara.

Leaders Clash

Nebraska overwhelmed Kansas State, 25-9, and Oklahoma routed the Missouri valley conference leader, Oklahoma Aggies, 41-0. Missouri gained a tie with Nebraska for the lead by whipping Iowa State, 21-6. The two leaders collide Saturday. Oklahoma plays Iowa State, and Kansas meets Kansas State.
